It is said the Germans demand that an armistice shall be arranged between the opposing forces around Paris, to enable the taking of a plebiscitum throughout France to decide the future form of government and to bring the civil struggle to a close

Officers of the Commune have seized the valuable sacred articles of the Church Trinity and all the churches of the city are to be similarly dealt with and then closed The demolition of the famous Chapel of Expiation on the Rue d Anjour St Honore has been commenced

Presbyterian Assembly at Chicago

CHICAGO, May 20 —In the Presbyterian Assembly yesterday the committee on Union with the United Presbyterian Church reported that they had met at Pittsburgh in March last and had presented the basis of union as also had the United Presbyterians The latter were different, and yet there was but little difference. The committee reported that in their judgment it was desirable that the committee should be continued and further steps taken to consummate the desired incorporation of the United Presbyterians with the main body of the Church The report was accepted and adopted, and the following resolution adopted

Resolved, That the Assembly without expressing its opinion on the basis of union thus presented hereby continue the committee with instructions to seek a basis on which both parties may perfectly and harmoniously unite

The question of the selection of a place for the next meeting of the General Assembly was taken up

Rev. Dr Foor of San Francisco made an earnest appeal for the next meeting of the Assembly in that city A committee of leading business men appointed by a large meeting in San Francisco, was now considering the question of ways and means and the best mode of securing the reduction of fares across the continent, and that committee would report before the close of the Assembly He asserted that they would be most hospitably treated The country west of the Missouri was not and rapidly The difficulties of the field of labor were but poorly appreciated It was very important that the Presbyterian Church should get more powerful influence on the great Pacific coast

A delegate moved San Francisco be selected by acclamation

Rev. Dr Edwards moved that it be made a special order of the day for next Friday He believed that the railways would charge merely a nominal tariff

MEXICO

Political Troubles—Revolution Imminent

CITY OF MEXICO May 19 —Tampico continues in a state of revolution The town is defended by a force of four hundred men, who had several fights with the Federal troops outside the walls General Rocha Escobedo's right hand man has left San Luis Potosi for Tampico, professedly to suppress the revolution, but he is suspected of an intention to take command of the Federals also to aid in an effort now pending to corrupt and divide the army

It is believed there will be no Presidential election by the people and that the choice of President will devolve on Congress, which it is expected will be largely composed of partisans of Lerdo Suarez is using the public funds and Lerdo his own private funds to accomplish the purposes of the Presidential campaign Whoever may be elected his opponent will inaugurate a revolution and a summary trial by three Generals The friends of Porfirio Diaz are likewise demonstrating the probability and he is handling the party in favor of Lerdo The principle of the Lerdo and Porfirio parties is dominant In Guerrero the political disturbance continues There exists among the Congressional leaders bitter hatred for each other. The Legislature of San Luis Potosi authorized Escobedo to organize a force of 4 000 in anticipation of riot in Guadalajara The troops impeded the voting and many persons were wounded

NEW BRUNSWICK

Opposition to the Treaty of Washington

FREDERICTON N B May 19 —The Legislature of New Brunswick has adopted by unanimous vote in both houses resolutions condemning the terms of the treaty of Washington so far as they affect the interests of Canada

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO May 20 —The California Eastern Extension railroad, to form a part of a through line from San Francisco to New York will be incorporated Monday

All lines to Los Angeles are crowded to their utmost capacity Over two hundred persons will make the trip next week

The plans of the new railroad combination for building a through line from San Francisco to Salt Lake created quite a sensation in New York and Jay Cooke is out in a card denying the whole story nevertheless the facts are as stated and may be fully relied on Articles of incorporation would have been filed to day, but for the absence of Mr Ralcofson who is out with M Delasky, agent for the European capitalists, inspecting the road

Politics are extremely lively to day. Both Democrats and Republicans are active, putting up the pins for primaries

Hollenager, the inventor of Hercules powder was severely injured to day by an explosion as he was mixing the ingredients at his house on Rouse street The explosion shattered the windows of the house but did not set anything on fire

G D Girault administrator of the estate of Guezphi Moriani who was killed by a blast fired at North Beach without warning to passers has sued the contractors, George and John Dougherty for $50 000 damages

In the official reports from military officers in Arizona concerning the late massacre of Indians at Camp Grant, published by order of the commander of the District of the Pacific the assertion is made that of the entire number killed all but eight were women and children, and the affair is denounced as an unprovoked and cowardly murder in all its details

General Grants Blunders.

The Irish Republic a good paper for Irishmen or any other enthusiastic lovers of freedom has a regular correspondent named Peter Giles, who has a peculiarly fine way of getting at political matters and things The other day he met his friend Raphael, when a conversation ensued This Raphael is a good hearted fellow, who thinks that the world rests upon his shoulders and that if he should let go the universe must go to smithereens If any thing is done contrary to his advice it's a blunder whether it be to regulate a sewerage city or the U S Government His first salutation to Peter was

'Have you heard the news'

No, what's up'

Grant has been making another mistake The Republican party is going to thunder'

'That's bad' General Grant has ruined us several times in the last two years that's a fact

'But I tell you we're clean gone this time Grant don't stand the ghost of a chance for a renomination He wouldn't get twenty votes in a convention to morrow.

"Is that so?"

'You better believe it' He's nothing but a bundle of blunders He hain't got political sagacity enough to take him through a New York primary

'Poor man' I have heard that said of him before I think you made the same remark when he was down in the swamps about Vicksburg But he blundered into that stronghold after all Rather queer isn't it, that all Grant's blunders seem to have given us victories over the rebs I recollect you spent a day once trying to convince me that General Grant committed a blunder in going through the Wilderness and getting on the other side of Richmond I think you called him a butcher then Some days after he blundered up against an apple tree at Appomattox and General Lee happened there about the same time If I recollect Lee was quite disgusted at Grant's blunders and the Confederates generally thought he made mistakes If I am not mistaken our New York Copperheads have played upon that harp of a thousand strings General Grant's 'blunders' ever since Lee's surrender

"Dence take your fun Peter' You know he's made mistakes in his policy'

'Yes I think it was a great mistake to pay off so much of the national debt as he has done, instead of imitating Tammany Republicans and going halves with a 'ring' on a hundred million taxes

'Stop Peter, you're laughing at a fellow You know Grant has turned out Grant'

So

'Yes and removed General Pahlen

'That was peppery'

'And changed one of the Pension Agents

'Oh dear' Has he put Tammany Republicans in'

No, not quite but you'll admit he has made a blunder in—

In what' In not putting Tammany fellows in'

Oh dear no' but can't man be a good Republican and not a Grant man'

I think St Paul had some very good notions about that matter, friend Raphael I commend you to the 2d chapter 1st Corinthians It contains some very good suggestions for present consideration

'We have too many who go in for Paul or Apollos and ignore the great principles for which we are contending Factions are not parties The Republican party is a principle, if it is anything The President is simply the leader treading the platform upon which the people placed him and like a true soldier as he is knows no orders but those he finds in the order book And because he knows and values discipline he is accused of 'blunders' by every straggler who wants to pass the guard without having the countersign

'I friend Raphael just you overhaul your Epistles, and when found, make a note of 1st Corinthians, chapter 3d That's what's the matter'

The Break Down of Fraud in Connecticut

Some of our Democratic papers which brought their poultry out a few weeks ago when the election in Connecticut took place, are now whining dismally because English is found not to have been elected and Jewell as Governor They say English was cheated out of his rights Now here is a statement of the facts In imitation of their Tammany brethren in New York the Connecticut Democrats at first attempted to swindle Jewell out of his election for Governor by falsifying the returns The case came before the Legislature Committee when the Democratic members refused to be present at the investigation knowing that the fraud must be exposed, and that they would if present necessarily become parties to the exposure of the rascalities of their friends This swindle having been unearthed the Committee proceeded to count the ballots, when it was found that one hundred ballots cast for Jewell in the Fourth Ward in New Haven had been stolen from the ballot box after the votes were counted, the box having only been fastened with an ordinary padlock and not sealed The Legislative Committee determined to probe the infamous affair to the bottom proceeded to the affidavits of those who voted for Jewell and the number of those all days and all the number of votes given to Jewell by the returns and claimed for him and showed conclusively, beyond the shadow of a doubt that the Democracy had stolen the tickets from the ballot box to defraud the people of their choice And this is the record of the Democracy everywhere When the people repudiate them they seek by all manner of rascalities to defeat their will

A venerable old bachelor, who fondly believes that a woman has something to say on all subjects recently asked a female friend

The Growth of Nations

[From the Boston Advertiser]

The comparisons made at the close of the last decade by writers who deal in figures on a grand scale are invariably favorable to the United States In spite of immense losses arising from internal conflicts and faults of administration the balance has been steadily on our side Prussia alone among civilized nations has had a career as prosperous and remarkable and even Prussia has been free from the internal strife which has made the growth of this country slower than it should have been, and has imposed burdens entirely exceptional in the experience of modern nations Since 1840 the population of the United States has advanced eighteen to forty millions and since 1850 the estimated value of property from 6000 millions to 13 000 millions Of the other great nations the United Kingdom rose in population to thirty one millions and France by the annexation of Nice and Savoy to thirty-eight millions,—since reduced by the losses of war

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, MAY 22, 1871.

A School Director's Arithmetic.

Mr. Dennison must accept the apology of the public when they tell him they do not consider his attempted defense at all successful or conclusive. By various permutations and combinations of figures he makes out that, so far from being a defaulter to the Portland School District, the said District is actually indebted to him in the sum of $9,191! It has taken him three weeks to figure out this result. He says it was done with the assistance of a "competent accountant," but omits to state who that accountant is. It would be very much to the point if that person would make a complete exhibit over his own signature, and show the public wherein the report of the examining committee was wrong. That report is traversed in general terms, but it is nowhere shown how and in what particulars it is erroneous. Surely if it were wrong it would be easy to show how and where. But Mr. Dennison, prudently, as we believe, refrains from raising a particular issue with that report, but contents himself with producing a sort of general jugglery of figures, under authority of a nameless accountant, and triumphantly points to this achievement as his vindication. It will be proper to inform Mr. Dennison that this will not do. Messrs. Backenstos, Schuyler and Brooke, who examined the accounts and reported thereon are "competent accountants," and not imaginary ones, either, and their authority will yet stand as something better than that of the nameless accountant of Mr. Dennison's fable.

The gratuitous charge that the report of the committee was prompted by "malice" sorts very well with the general lameness of this defense, which is intended as an exculpation but which does not meet or controvert in a single particular the findings of the committee of investigation. Besides, if the three persons who constituted the committee were prompted by "malice" the whole voters of the District were moved by the same motive, for the examination was ordered by the District and by the District the report was accepted. Mr. Dennison may be a very considerable man, but we are certain he is not consequential enough to be the object of the "malice" of all the people of Portland.

It is inconceivable to him how any one can suppose him delinquent in this affair, because he has been "a resident of this city for over twenty-one years." He should be informed that this is not a conclusive reason. Many a man has lived in a place for a longer time and borne a tolerably good character too, who has done even whose acts than that which Mr. Dennison is charged with. Besides, he thinks it certain that he has not been derelict in his duties, else when he retired from office two years ago he would not have been complimented for the manner in which he had performed them. This reasoning is rather more inconclusive than the other. It may reasonably be supposed that if the voters of the District had then actually known what his management had been, they would not have complimented him then any more than they did at the last meeting when they accepted the report which showed his delinquency.

The OREGONIAN is noticed in this "card." It cannot be, so the statement goes, that Mr. Dennison's wish to be Director arose from his anxiety to control the school funds, as was intimated by this paper, because "Directors have no control over the school funds, they merely sign warrants of payment, which are cashed by the Clerk who has charge of the funds and is responsible for the same."

This is very sound reasoning and very good, but will Mr. Dennison explain to the public what business he had to draw sums of money in the school funds as he is shown to have done by Mr. McCoy's accounts, and as he confessed to have done at the school meeting on the 1st inst.? It is all very fine to say that the Directors cannot handle the funds, but he did handle them, and the accounts prove it.

In order that the public may see just what Mr. Dennison has to say, we give his "card" elsewhere; but he has made a great blunder in playing a "card" like that. It would have been better for him to continue to hold a lofty air and to affect to despise suspicion. As it is he has only brought himself into new difficulties. A higgledy-piggledy of figures which shows nothing and meets no single point in the report of the committee of investigation does not clear this matter up nor exculpate Mr. Dennison.

The Logic of a Party in Search of a Platform.

The following is from the Eugene Guard:

The OREGONIAN is fearfully exercised to know what certain Democratic papers in this State are going to do about negro suffrage. The New York World, a (so-called) Democratic paper declares that if the question of the abolition of negro suffrage is made an issue in the coming campaign that the State of New York would be lost to the Democrats. We regard this as sheer nonsense. We believe that on this issue alone the Democrats could carry not only New York, but every State in the Union. Negro suffrage failed to produce the desired effect, and there are legions of Republicans who would vote with us on this issue. But after all, we have no idea from present indications that this will be made an issue.

Just observe from the above how Democratic logic confutes itself. Is it conceivable that the Democratic party, if it were sure of carrying "not only New York but every State in the Union" by making an issue against negro suffrage, would fail to make that issue? The Guard assures us that if its party should pronounce boldly for the overthrow of the fifteenth amendment and the abolition of negro suffrage its success would be perfectly certain; yet it throws away this certainty of success and launches out upon the sea of hazardous experiment! If we are to believe that paper, its party sees the way open to certain victory, but declines to travel it. It wants a triumph and sees how a triumph may certainly be obtained, yet it refuses to embrace the means to come by it. This is not the most plausible thing in the world. The Guard's observations indicate just this, viz: Its party wants to overthrow the constitutional amendments and the settlements that have followed the war, but it dares not attack them. It hopes by deception to get in power first, and attack them afterwards. Every Democrat knows well enough that his party has no mission except that of undying hostility to the measures which it is now pretending to accept, for the sake of deceiving the country and getting into power. If that party should resolve to "accept the situation," with the constitutional amendments, reconstruction, negro suffrage and all, it would fall to pieces at once, should the masses of its voters believe its declarations sincere. They would only vote for its candidates after such declarations, in the hope and belief that their promises would be violated as soon as power were placed in their hands.

OREGON.

The proprietor of the Dalles Mountaineer announces his purpose to enlarge his paper.

A proposition is to be made to the citizens of Dalles for building a woolen factory at that place, instead of rebuilding at Ellendale.

It is said that a wagon road is to be opened from Nehalem valley to the Columbia river to a point opposite or nearly opposite Kalama.

From the Eugene City Guard we learn that C. C. Huntley, of Washington, D. C., has purchased a one-half interest in the Overland Stage Co.

The La Grande Democrat says that Henry Stockman, an old settler of Clark's creek, was thrown from his horse and instantly killed.

John Fouts and Jake Roberts with their families and a number of cattle have left Yamhill county for Lost river, where they intend to settle.

At the Opera House, in Salem, the other night, the $140 silver trumpet, for selling the greatest number of tickets, was awarded to Tiger Engine Co. No. 2.

A petition with several hundred signers has been forwarded to the Postal Agent and the P. O. Department, asking for a postoffice at Turner's Station, eight miles south of Salem, on the railroad.

The West Side has this: The OREGONIAN states that there are a number of working men in that city who are out of employment. Why don't they scatter out? Farmers need help, and will for months to come.

From the Dallas Republican: We are credibly informed that there is about 700 acres of grain sown on the Grand Round Reservation, 120 acres on the Government farm, and the remainder is sown in patches by the Indians. This, added to the large amount of ground they have in garden, will give them a much larger supply of provender this year than usual. They have on hand from last year's crop quite a surplus of wheat, oats and hay.

From the Statesman: Several days ago quite a number of laborers on the Oregon and California Railroad passed down the river, having quit work because the wages had been reduced to $1.75 per day. The time when men could command their own price for all kinds of labor has about passed away in Oregon. We would like to see day labor command high rates, but there is no industry in the country that can afford them, consequently high prices for labor are not healthy to the best interests of Oregon.

From the Eugene Guard: The Oregon and California Railroad is steadily approaching our city, and in less than four months this will be the temporary terminus of the road. Already passengers leaving here at 7 A. M. arrive in Portland at 8:30 P. M., the O. & C. Stage Company's six-horse coaches making connection at Halsey, the present terminus. Under this influence the travel overland is largely increasing, and we venture the assertion that during the past two weeks more strangers have visited Eugene than for any corresponding length of time in the past five years.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Cleveland Leader says it is the open boast of Ohio Democrats that they can draw upon Tammany for whatever money is needed to carry the Ohio Legislature.

The San Francisco Chronicle says that ex-Congressman Johnson may now be considered out of the fight for the nomination for Governor of California. Gov. Haight leads all Democratic competitors.

The Louisville Courier-Journal, the organ of the progressive Democracy of Kentucky, has not a word of approbation for the ticket nominated at Frankfort. The resolutions are not indorsed, nor even commented upon. In fact the convention failed to do anything which the enlightened Democracy of Kentucky expected. The Ledger, which is the organ of the bigoted section of the party, indorses the candidates and the platform.

The Richmond Enquirer expresses its belief that the South has seen the worst of its Ku-klux outrages, that the storm has spent its fury, and that, henceforth there will be an improvement. And apologizing for the past, it says that an organization wise enough and necessary enough for the purposes for which it was formed finally fell into the control of bad men, and ceasing to be a shield and protection for the oppressed and outraged, itself became an oppressor and a scourge to friend and foe alike.

The Republicans had nearly 1,000 majority in the registration in Richmond, Va., on Friday, and the Examiner frantically calls upon "the wealth, intelligence and Caucasian blood" of the city to come to the rescue, and, turning appealingly to the other sex, exclaims: "Women of Richmond, who were never conquered by the sword or famine during four years of war, make men of your husbands, your brothers, your sons, and your sweethearts, and drive them, if necessary, to the places of registration."

PERSONAL NOTES.

The Marysville Appeal says: It is now positively announced that Brick Pomeroy will visit California this month and spend the summer here. If a small pox epidemic would keep him away, the antidote would be preferable to the moral disease of his presence.

A Western letter writer, speaking of the late George D. Prentice of the Louisville Journal, says the able editor might have died worth at least $1,000,000 if he had listened to prominent and wealthy rebels in Kentucky, and supported the cause of the South during the war. The correspondent leaves it in doubt whether he intends to compliment Prentice's patriotism, or censure his want of financial acumen.

The death of Lemuel Lyon, Esq., of this State, late U. S. Consul at Yokohama, which was announced here some days ago, took place at Yokohama on the 5th April. The Japan Gazette of the 6th said: "He had been suffering more or less for some time past, but only within the last fortnight has he been seriously ill. The cause of his death was softening of the brain." He was just about to start for Singapore, at which place he was to perform the duties of Consul. He was a native of East Needham, Mass., was born in 1806, and came to this coast in 1849. He resided in Oregon about ten years, most of the time at the Dalles.

THE TERRITORIES.

A large immigration has gone into the Lewis river country, opposite St. Helens, this spring.

The Kalama Beacon is a fine paper. Its conductors commence their work in a business-like manner, and are evidently "at home" in the walks of journalism. The paper is remarkably well worked up. It is nearly as large as the DAILY OREGONIAN, and appears on Tuesdays and Fridays.

All California has gone to gambling "for benevolent purposes." The latest enterprise is a lottery at Placerville under the auspices of the "Benevolent Association" of that place, for the purpose of providing more and better "educational accommodations." "The Board of Education of the City of Placerville" lend their countenance and assistance to the scheme. Tickets to the number of 40,000 are to be sold at $2.50 each, and $50,000 in coin is to be distributed as prizes. It is supposed that the exercises on the day when the gambling takes place will be opened, after the example set at San Francisco, with reading a chapter from the Bible and an invocation of the divine blessing.

We have a little curiosity to see what such papers as the Albany (Oregon) Democrat will say of the Vallandigham platform in Ohio. The Democrat for the last few weeks has been protesting against a recognition by its party of the validity of the constitutional amendments. Val. accepts them, negro suffrage and all.

CURRENT NOTES.

Subscriptions to the new five per cent. loan have been very slow of late, but it is said that important negotiations are in progress between the Secretary of the Treasury and foreign capitalists, and it is intimated that in a few weeks the entire loan will be taken.

The latest arrival from Honolulu reports that from present indications the crop of sugar at the Islands will not come up to its usual range. Receipts from plantations during the first four months of 1871, have been light, which is attributed to the unusually rainy spring.

The Supreme Court of California has just given a lengthy and elaborate decision maintaining the constitutionality of the law allowing counties and municipal corporations to vote pecuniary aid to railroad enterprises. The opinion was delivered by Justice Wallace and concurred in by the whole Bench.

CITY.

MR. DENNISON RESPONDS.—At last Mr. Dennison responds touching his delinquency as School [illegible]. The following is his "card:"

[illegible] adjourned meeting of School District No. [illegible] Special School House, on the evening of [illegible] a committee, consisting of E. D. Back [illegible], J. Schuyler, Jr., and Lloyd Brooks, presented a report in which I was accused of depositing the school fund of the sum of $100, by [illegible] the school fund. This report was handed to me from Thomas Stephens. This report [illegible] over two years after my term of office as School Director, leads me to believe that it was suggested by malice and a desire to injure my reputation in the estimation of the public. I am not a resident of this city for over twenty years past, and it is not possible on any grounds that I could tarnish my character in the community among whom I have resided since my boyhood by fraudulently appropriating the paltry sum of $100. In said report a resolution was also quoted from the minutes of said Board of which I was appointed Chairman of [illegible] Board and furnished with authority to exercise a general supervision over the affairs of the [illegible]. From this resolution the committee attempting to deduce that I was furnished with unlimited power in the transaction of business, and therefore responsible for any mistakes that might have occurred in the transactions of the Board. I do not assume the responsibility of the principal business transactions, yet I claim exemption from censure upon the premise that I could not transact no business, sign no order, nor make [illegible] and signatures of any kind, without the [illegible] and signature of my colleague, General [illegible]. During my association with the Board I have received complimentary testimonials from [illegible] and citizens, and at a school meeting in 1869 [illegible] I introduced a resolution, which was [illegible] complimenting me upon the efficiency of [illegible] in Public Schools under my charge. Now, were [illegible] my duties, I certainly would not have received those flattering testimonials. If I [illegible] guilty of embezzlement, why did not my [illegible] in office, Messrs. Wadhams, Shattuck [illegible] the two former political opponents [illegible] my accounts, and report? There must have been some motive, if they knew it, [illegible] they did know that I could not be guilty of [illegible], as I had no money belonging to [illegible] fund in my possession.

[illegible] has stated that my assiduous [illegible] as a friend of the schools sprung from [illegible] I could control the school funds for [illegible] purposes. In reply to this I would [illegible] School Directors have no control over the [illegible] funds, they merely sign warrants for pay[illegible], which are cashed by the Clerk, who has [illegible] of the funds and is responsible for the [illegible].

The reason that I have not replied before this [illegible] to the report of Messrs. Schuyler, Backenstos [illegible] that the book of the transactions [illegible] with which I was last connected had [illegible] of my hands, and I had to procure the [illegible] to scan them, with the aid of a [illegible] accountant. After a careful research [illegible] books I have found the following receipts [illegible] figures, which will be found correct; [illegible] should any person feel like examining for [illegible], the books are at his disposal:

STATEMENT:

Amount of money received per McCoy's (School Clerk) statement	$27,136 03
PAYMENTS.
Amount paid Teachers, per re[illegible]	$10,986 83
Amount paid sundry bills	11,844 36
Terwilliger, for land	125 00
J F McCoy, amount [illegible] him, as charged on his [illegible]	287 61
Amount on hand acknowledged by R. Quackenbush, Me[illegible]	4,063 42
	$27,297 22
	$109 19

If the amount of money received, as per [illegible] ment, the $100 be added received from [illegible] Stephens, it will make $27,289.03 re[illegible] $27,297.22 paid out, which still leaves [illegible] of $9.19.

[illegible]ion, I trust that those papers which [illegible]ished the charges against me, will do [illegible]ase to publish this statement in reply.

A. P. DENNISON.

MAN BODY FOUND AT VANCOUVER.—Last Friday a dead body was found in the Columbia [illegible] at Vancouver. A coroner's inquest was held and the following verdict was rendered:

VANCOUVER, CLARKE COUNTY, W. T., May 20th, 1871.

We, the Coroner's jurors, summoned to hold [illegible] upon the body of a person found floating [illegible] Columbia river, near Vancouver, on the [illegible] day of May, 1871, do find said person to be [illegible], about 40 years of age; supposed to be [illegible], had on, when found, a pair of blue woolen pantaloons, gray woolen drawers, and [illegible] gray woolen shirt; was marked on the left [illegible] with indelible ink, something shaped like a [illegible] heart; had a small brass ring in his left [illegible], and a thread in his right ear; had a leather [illegible] around his waist, and both of his arms were [illegible] over his head, which may be caused [illegible] being tied round the body and slipping over [illegible]. We suppose the body to have been in the water about three months, and the cause of [illegible] is unknown to this jury.

MICHAEL SHEA, Coroner.
MICHAEL A. BATTERSBY, Foreman,
L. M. HIDDEN,
C. A. ROSS.

[illegible] BY AT. VS DAVENPORT.—The point decided in this case in the U. S. Circuit Court, as [illegible]ed, is this: On March 10, 1852, Lowndale, Colle and Chapman, being in the joint occupation of the Portland Land Claim, entered into [illegible] to partition the same among them[illegible], in that each might be able to comply with the Donation act and notify thereon for himself. Prior to this time, however, they had jointly and severally sold lots throughout the claim to each other and to third persons. To provide for these sales they asserted a covenant in this agreement, that each of them would, when he acquired title to his separate portion, make conveyance to all [illegible] within such separate portion so sold. The Court held that under and by virtue of this [illegible] and partition, Lowndale, Colfax and Chapman, each took his portion of the donation in trust for the purchasers of lots therein, sold by either of them before that time, and that the purchasers or their assignees might enforce this trust and compel the grantor or their heirs to convey to them the legal title so acquired. This agreement did not apply to that portion of the claim nor to the lots sold by Pettygrove prior to Lowndale's occupation of the claim.

"[illegible]ATION DAY."—The 30th day of May is the day on which the Grand Army of the Republic decorates the graves of their comrades who fell in the war of the rebellion. The Posts of [illegible] organization throughout the United States, usually observe the day in some manner. The Post of this city will hold, on the evening of that day, a special meeting at their Hall, on the corner of Madison and First streets, when an address and some ceremonies appropriate to the day may be expected. A committee to engage a speaker and to make all necessary arrangements, was appointed. To-morrow morning the official invitation to soldiers and sailors of the U. S. army and marine corps who served during the rebellion, will be published, together with an announcement of the name of the person selected to address the comrades of the army. The ceremonies to be observed, are not yet decided upon, but will doubtless be appropriate and interesting.

INVENTION IN PHOTOGRAPHY.—Mr. Joseph Buckstel of this city has invented an improvement upon the Photographic plate holder, which, it is claimed, renders that article much more convenient for use, and enables the artist to perform his processes with greater neatness and economy. A model has been sent to the Philadelphia Photographic Fair to be held on the 6th of June. Mr. Buckstel has invented several important improvements within the last few years, to the old style of apparatus, in use by photographers.

THE OREGON CENTRAL RAILROAD.—We have authentic information that the work for the West Side railroad is already under way. A contract has been let for getting out along the road, four miles of ties, and the Company's mill at the foot of G street is now engaged in cutting timber and lumber for the Fourth street bridge, at the upper end of the city. Active work on the road will be commenced as soon as the weather is got settled, so that it can be prosecuted without interruption.

TRIAL FOR THE TILLAMOOK TRADE.—The schooner Mollie Rand, of about 260 tons register, is now at this port from San Francisco. It is reported that she is to run in the trade between this city and Tillamook, under command of Captain Fell Cowie.

FESTIVAL.—The members of the A. M. E. Zion Church will give a literary and floral festival at the Washington Guard's Armory to-morrow evening for the benefit of the church. Tickets, including supper, fifty cents.

SKATING.—Nearly everybody was at the skating rink Saturday evening. Immensely large as the floor is, it was literally crowded. The skating sport seems to be growing in favor daily and nightly.

STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

At the last meeting of the Association it was

Resolved, That the next session of this Association be held at such time and place as the President and Executive Committee shall designate.

In the exercise of the power thus conferred upon us, we have designated 9 o'clock A. M., July 21st, as the time, and Salem, as the place, when and where we most earnestly entreat all the County School Superintendents in the State, and such professional teachers and other friends of education as may find it practicable, to meet with us for the purpose of advancing learning by imparting to those who may be present, such knowledge as to the best methods of government and teaching as may have been suggested by experience and observation.

The time fixed upon is the day after the commencement exercises of the Willamet University. This was done for the purpose of enabling persons to attend both. The cause of education would be promoted if journalists throughout the State would obligingly publish the above at least once.

J. QUINN THORNTON, President.
CLARK SMITH, Executive Com.

The Household Tonic.

The efficacy of Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvellous tonic has borne down all opposition and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until at last the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number, have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous disease, as Hostetter's Bitters. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York: "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have. But the case of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medicinal preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitters. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proved by its fast and ever increasing sales.

The Dark Wood.

BY WILLIAM MORRIS.

Upon an eve I sat me down and wept,
Because the world so wasteful seemed good,
So fall autumn was it, and the mere dew slept,
Thus misty hills dreamed and the silent wood
Came list'ening to the sorrow of my mood
I knew not if the earth with sad did grieve
Or if mocked my grief dark bitter eve.

Then 'twixt my tears a wife did I see
Wander anigh me o'er the waters grey,
Unclad and gazed upon the pitiless sky
With dog-eyed worn eyes until my woe did pass
Adown to her and fearless now I was,
And I cried, was saying me of one
Long had I left alone.

Then I knew not and she turned away
Her dark wood while my own great pain
Was there, till dark had slain the day,
And wrestled at the gray dawn I had again
Seen from the wood a voice cried, 'Ah, in vain,
In vain I ask thee O thou bitter sweet'
Is what lone land are set thy forgat for feet'

Then looked up, and, lo, a man there came
Across the creek, and stood regarding me
Again my tears stared dried for shame
Of court, O mourner, where is she
Or sought her dyary land and sea!
And she loveth me and still
Is more than green hill meeteth hill"

So we passed on sadly, and I knew
Not where, and missed in the dark night,
Some of the world untrue
And foolish love and rakish scorn of right
Or cadet pay piety for their lost delight,
Till arrow longing I grew weak;
So I mourned that I had none to seek.

Making a Mark in Life

BY HENRY WARD BEECHER.

NEW YORK January 11 1871

Be so kind as to inform a young man, through the columns of the New York Ledger, as to the foundation he should build upon, the resolutions he should make, and what he should aspire to before starting in business for himself, as it would greatly oblige one who is bound to MAKE HIS MARK IN THE WORLD.

There is no difficulty in making one's mark after it is made, but much to do with the making. Good thing if it acts under right motives and proposes to itself worthy ends. But success in a mere worldly career is not enough for a young man's ambition. It is improper for one to begin with the purpose to obtain wealth or station. Something higher than that should be aimed at, and that is character. Every young man should be willing to wait till he has earned it.

Most generous natures promise themselves that if prospered they will use their money benevolently. Thousands forget the promise. The reason is that they put off a generous use of their means to a future day. Now a man should be doing, as he goes along, what he proposes to do when he has made his fortune. If you are stingy for forty years, in hoarding and getting money to be generous with after that, you will find, when age comes, that the disposition is dead. Men must carry forward with them the tastes, feelings and habits of which they expect to extract happiness in maturer life. Watch lest prosperity destroy generosity.

Stick to your legitimate business. Do not go into fanciful operations. Few men succeed in more than one business. To dabble in stocks, to put a few more into a manufactory, and a few more into an investment is enough to ruin any man. Be content with fair returns. Do not become greedy. Do not think that men are happy in proportion as they are rich, and therefore do not aim too high. Be content with moderate wealth. Make friends. A time will come when all the money in the world will not be worth to you so much as one good staunch friend.

And finally when you begin to feel the eagerness and rush and exhilaration of prosperity, read once a week Luke 12 15-21.

IMMENSE NEWSPAPER CIRCULATION.—The London Daily Telegraph circulates daily 190,000 copies. Here is the official statement—a curiosity in newspaper history. The total abolition of the newspaper stamp has taken away the interest in the subject the world formerly felt. Under these circumstances the conductors of the Daily Telegraph have adopted a course unprecedented by them or previously followed by any other London journal. They have opened to the press generally the books of their publisher's accountants of the highest order, showing certificate has been the result. We hereby certify that we have this day examined the publishing and printing accounts of the Daily Telegraph, from the commencement of the 24th of December, 1870, including the number of papers printed and published, 49,010,035, showing an average of 190 855.

A Communication from Councilman Hill

(The following communication was received last week, but too late for insertion. In remarks as we alluded to Mr. Hill's course in the matter of the city printing, it seems only fair to allow him to be heard. Therefore we give space to his somewhat long letter.—Eb. OREGONIAN.)

PORTLAND, May 18, 1871

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

SIR.—In your paper of this morning there appeared editorially a short article mentioning that some persons had criticised my course in regard to the city printing. I had not been aware of unfriendly criticism coming from any source except the Bulletin news sheet, which in a series of attacks, penned by James O'Meara, a Democrat but recently, and now without avowed or known political principles, has published of late a good many statements equally unfriendly and untrue, about me, but I have not deemed it proper to pay any attention to anything it might say. I have taken this course for two reasons.

First—The Bulletin, being a paper without political character, has no standing to question my political conduct.

Second—Every man who has mentioned the matter to me at all, has expressed himself substantially to the effect that it was "only Hallock and O'Meara working together."

But when the matter is mentioned in a Republican journal of respectable standing, and mentioned too in that spirit of candor and fairness which characterize the article in the OREGONIAN, I am ready to acknowledge my self properly called upon to present a statement of the facts so that every person may judge for himself whether or not I have violated the faith reposed in me. I assure you I have no regrets for what I have done, nor have I any fears that Republicans, knowing all the facts, will condemn me or disapprove the course I have taken. I know the Ore Ring do not feel very kindly toward me, but it is not the first time I have stirred that species of animal to a very active wriggling, and I must say I always feel unusually cheerful and digest my food all the better when, as at present, I can see them writhe.

But here are the facts: At a regular meeting of the Common Council in December last, that body received a communication from T. Patterson & Co., proprietors of the Herald, notifying the Council of the designation of that paper as the newspaper in which legal advertisements in the county should be published, according to the act of the last Legislature, commonly called the litigant law, and demanding the city printing. A question arose in the Council as to whether the litigant law was applicable to city printing. I expressed no opinion at that time, for I had never carefully examined the act. The communication was referred to the City Attorney, Mr. C. A. Dolph, (a Republican who never wavers) and to the Committees on Judiciary, consisting of Mr. Cree, Mr. Besser and myself.

Next day, Mr. Dolph and I, meeting on the street, conversation turned upon this communication, which had been referred to us. Neither of us having yet examined the litigant act, we both expressed some doubts of its applicability to the city printing, as well as the hope that upon investigation we should find that the Herald's demand might be lawfully refused. With these expressions we parted, each to investigate the question for himself.

On the 4th of January, Mr. Dolph came to my office and told me that he supposed "we should have to make two reports on that litigant organ matter." I asked, why. He said "Because I do not suppose we can agree. I have examined the matter with some care, and have been forced to the conclusion that the litigant act is applicable to all notices required by the Charter itself to be published." I replied that we should not disagree, for I had come to the same conclusion.

One of us, I forget which, then drew up a report stating the conclusion at which we had arrived, but expressing the opinion that to any printing which was not specially required by the Charter, but was prescribed by the Council itself, the litigant act was not applicable, and that as to all this latter class the Council had the right to determine for itself the paper in which it would publish. This report was submitted to Mr. Cree and Mr. Besser, who read it, and both signed it. At the meeting of the Council that evening, that report was adopted. It can be seen among the files of that meeting, bearing the signatures of the City Attorney and every member of the committee, and the record of its adoption does not show that a single member of the Council voted against it.

I believe the matter was up before the Council again in some form in January, but just how I do not know, as I was absent at Astoria.

On April 26th another communication was received by the Council, from Patterson & Co., demanding the city printing, and was laid upon the table. At the next regular meeting I introduced a resolution, directing the Auditor and Clerk to publish in the Herald any advertisement the publication of which was required by a law of the State. The motion to adopt this resolution was seconded by Councilman Congle. Pending the motion to adopt I stated my reasons for desiring the adoption of the resolution, and was earnestly opposed by Mr. Breck. The resolution was adopted by the following vote: Ayes—Besser, Congle, Drake, Hill and Moffett—all Republicans. Nays—Cree, Democrat, and Breck, Republican.

The reasons I gave for desiring the passage of the resolution, and the only reasons I had, were

First—Upon a very careful examination of the litigant law, I have not a doubt that the Legislature acted clearly within its constitutional powers in the passage of that act, though I do not believe it to be a wise or just law. The Democratic Legislature of 1870 had the power to commit this outrage, as well as many others which it committed. That this litigant act is applicable to such publications as are specially prescribed by the charter, will be seen at a glance. The act, after providing for the designation of these litigant organs and the bond to be filed by the proprietors of them, proceeds

"And thereafter notices, summons and advertisements, of whatever nature, authorized or required to be published by any law of this State, which shall be published in any other newspaper than the one so designated, shall be illegal and void."

But is the city charter a "law of this State?" The Constitution (Art. 4, sec. 27,) answers the question "Every statute shall be a public law, unless otherwise declared in the statute itself." The charter of Portland is a statute, an act of the Legislature, and it is not declared in that statute that it is otherwise than a public law. Can any man look at these provisions and say the litigant law does not apply to publications required by the charter?

In these views of the constitutionality and applicability of the litigant act, I have the expressed concurrence of some of the profoundest lawyers of the State, and I have yet to hear of the first lawyer of respectable standing who dissents from them. Two gentlemen whose legal opinions are esteemed of great weight, have said the only doubt in the premises is, whether the litigant organ is not entitled to all the city printing. Every lawyer in the city Republican or Democrat, publishes all his legal notices in the litigant organ, thus showing by that highest order of evidence, their actions, whether they deem it safe to disregard the litigant act, and how they feel in duty bound to advise their clients.

Second—It is a principle well understood by every lawyer, that no assessment or tax can be collected of private property without a strict compliance with all the provisions of the law. Every step required by the law must be taken, or the whole proceeding is illegal. Apply this principle to the case before us, and see whether any prudent man, fully comprehending the situation, and desiring to act for the city as carefully as he would act for himself, would have pursued a course different from that pursued by the Republicans who gave this printing to the Herald. Here are the facts: The Council was engaged in the improvement of a large number of streets. The contracts already let, and to pay for which the money has not yet been collected amount, and did amount at the time this resolution was passed, to between eighteen and twenty thousand dollars. This money is to be collected off private property adjacent to such improvements, but the charter provides that if the property don't bring the money, the city at large must pay the deficit. These assessments are required by the charter to be published. Suppose the publication, not being made in the litigant organ, were held to be in the words of the statute, illegal and void; what would be the result? Nothing, only the city would have to be taxed at large to pay this $18 000 or $20 000 in addition to its already heavy burdens of taxation. And the improvements this summer will, in all probability, be at least as much more, and this, too, might be saddled on the backs of the property holders.

If, then there were reason to doubt the validity of this law, or its application to this case, could any man afford to take such risks in the course of his duties as a public officer as to disregard its requirements when such consequences might follow, while obedience, though unpleasant, was absolutely safe? No man would do so, in his private affairs and no man should be induced to do so in his public duties by mere party considerations.

Besides these things there could not but arise interminable litigation in regard to land titles upon sales or attempted sales, under these assessments, if the act were disregarded. I care nothing for Patterson & Co's law suit, —or at least if there had been all or the tenth part that would follow our disregard of the litigant act, I, for one, should not have been disposed to go out of my way to avoid it. But there would have followed more litigation about titles, arising out of this one thing, than all that has been going on from other causes lately.

Under these circumstances five Republicans, constituting a majority of the Council, gave this printing to the Herald. If I acted corruptly the others must have done so too, unless we are to suppose that they have no more sense than to be led into a mistake of such magnitude, after four or five months consideration on the question. The fact is, they did right—they took the prudent course as faithful servants of the city.

It has been said I was the attorney of the Herald. This is totally unfounded. The whole of my relation to any person connected with that paper is some years before Mr. Semple's marriage, I was employed by the guardian of Ruth A. Lownsdale, upon a written contract, to attend to the recovery of her interest in certain lands, for a stipulated compensation. The business was not completed when she was married to Mr. Semple and since his marriage he has, of course, cooperated with me in that business, but he has nothing to say about my compensation—that having been fixed before, and besides this, we have not and never had any sort of business relations. I neither know nor care who the Herald's attorney is, though I have been informed that they had employed some one.

Yours, Respectfully,
W. LAIR HILL.
